Quarantine Lifestyle
SPECIAL EDITION

A NOTE FROM THE THERITAGE TEAM

The coronavirus pandemic is unprecedented, it has shown the vulnerability of our society but also its most committed, supportive and responsible side. In today's world we are accustomed to socializing, going out and enjoying travelling but the world has understood that it is time to stay at home, to take care of our loved ones and ourselves.

No one is indifferent to the effects of this pandemic and neither are we at Theritage. Over the last few weeks practically every country in the world has first established recommendations, then restrictions and finally prohibitions. Governments are trying to stop the spread of the virus and one of the ways to do this is by asking people to stay home.

Facing these challenges, our team now working from home, has compiled a Quarantine Lifestyle issue, to ease the time spent at home, seeking ways to somehow bring you a sense of normality, ideas to reinvent yourself or to keep you entertained in these extreme times.

Our team wishes your families, loved ones and friends all the best for the times ahead.

FORKS OVER KNIVES

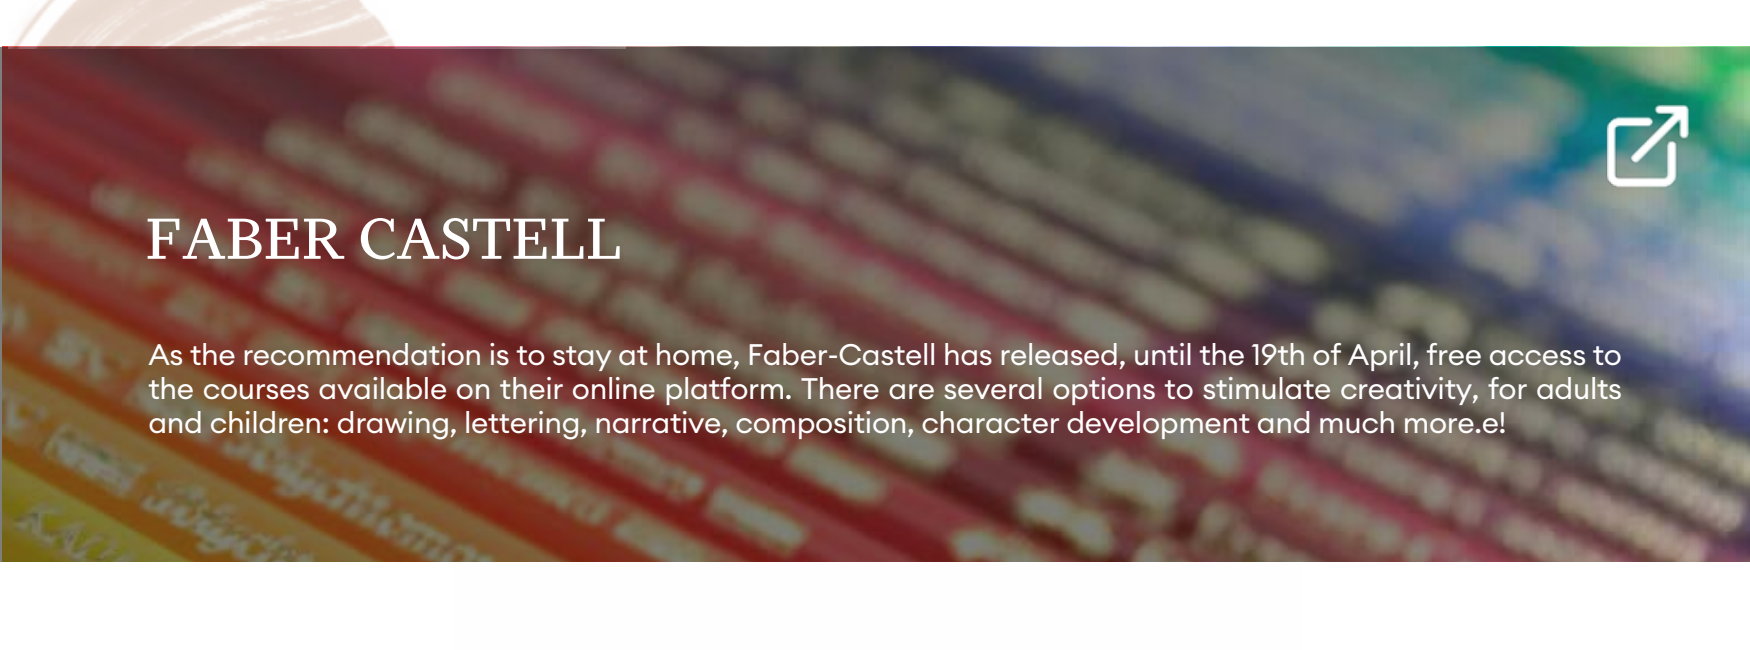

After immersing himself in learning about the disease-reversing power of a plant-based diet, Brian understood the evidence was strong, yet the overwhelming majority of the population had no idea that this simple change could have such a drastic impact. In 2009, he began work on a documentary film: Forks Over Knives, broadcasted on Netflix, which soon became a hit. The accompanying book became a New York Times No. 1 bestseller. Since 2011, Forks Over Knives has released four additional books, launched a mobile recipe app and maintains a website filled with the latest research, recipes, and tools to help plant-based journeys. The team has grown and launched a cooking course, a meal planner, a line of food products, and a magazine.

THERITAGE CONCIERGE

TOY BOY

100% ON ROTTEN TOMATOES

Hugo Beltrán (Jesús Mosquera) is a young, beautiful and carefree stripper who wakes up one day at a cruise alongside a burned corpse after a night of partying and excesses. It is discovered that it is the corpse of the husband of his lover, Macarena Medina (Cristina Castaño), with whom he was in a sexual high-voltage steamy relationship. He is declared guilty and sentenced to fifteen years of prison after a badly done trial, although Hugo, despite not remembering any of what happened that night, is more than sure he wasn't actually the murderer, but the victim of a setup to frame him. Seven years later, he receives the visit of Triana Marín (María Pedraza), a young lawyer who offers to represent him, reopening the case and scheduling a new trial in which Hugo will finally get the chance to prove his innocence. Even though Hugo distrusts the offer, he accepts and is released from prison under conditional liberty, with the new trial pending.

MASTER OF NONE

KNOCK DOWN THE HOUSE

100% ON ROTTEN TOMATOES

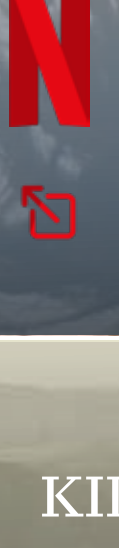

When tragedy struck her family in the midst of the financial crisis, Bronx-born Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez had to work double shifts in a restaurant to save her home from foreclosure. After losing a loved one to a preventable medical condition, Amy Vilela didn't know what to do with the anger she felt about America's broken health care system. Cori Bush was drawn into the streets when the police shooting of an unarmed black man brought protests and tanks into her neighborhood. Paula Jean Swearengin was fed up with watching her friends and family suffer and die from the environmental effects of the coal industry. At a moment of historic volatility in American politics, these four women decide to fight back, setting themselves on a journey that will change their lives and their country forever. Without political experience or corporate money, they build a movement of insurgent candidates challenging powerful incumbents in Congress. Their efforts result in a legendary upset.

MR. ROOSEVELT

100% ON ROTTEN TOMATOES

In her feature directorial debut, Noël Wells portrays Emily, a talented but hard-to-classify comedic performer who left behind her home and boyfriend to pursue career opportunities in L.A. When a loved one falls ill, Emily rushes back to Austin where she's forced to stay with her ex-boyfriend (Nick Thune) and his new-and-improved girlfriend (Britt Luster), a totally together woman with a five-year plan. Though Emily is the same, everything else is different: her house has been smartly redecorated, her rocker boyfriend is training to be a real estate agent, and her old haunts show serious signs of gentrification. Holed up in her own guest room, Emily—who has no idea what she'll be doing five days from now, let alone five years—is forced to question everyone's values: are they sell-outs or have they just figured out what makes them happy? And is she following her dreams or is she just a self-absorbed loser?

KILO TWO BRAVO

100% ON ROTTEN TOMATOES

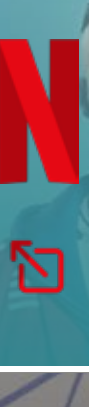

Kilo Two Bravo relives the true story of a platoon tasked with neutralizing a Taliban roadblock in the Kajaki region of Afghanistan. As they close in on the insurgents, the unit find themselves marooned in the middle of an active minefield, setting in motion a desperate air rescue mission that risks detonating the entire explosive terrain. This excruciatingly tense thriller depicts the heroism, courage, and survival of the brothers of Kilo Two Bravo company and tells the story of one of the most valiant rescue efforts of modern warfare.

THE YOUNG OFFENDERS

100% ON ROTTEN TOMATOES

Inspired by the true story of Ireland's biggest cocaine seizure in 2007, The Young Offenders is a comedy road movie about best friends Conor and Jock, two inner-city teenagers from Cork who dress the same, act the same, and even have the same bum-fluff mustaches. Jock is a legendary bike thief who plays a daily game of cat-and-mouse with the bike-buff-obsessed Garda Sergeant Healy. When a drug-trafficking boat capsizes off the coast of West Cork and 61 bales of cocaine, each worth 7 million euro, are seized, word gets out that there is a bale missing. The boys steal two bikes and go on a road trip hoping to find a missing bale which they can sell so as to escape their troubled home lives....But Sergeant Healy is in hot pursuit.

TO ALL THE BOYS I'VE LOVED BEFORE

97% ON ROTTEN TOMATOES

What if all the crushes you ever had found out how you felt about them....all at once? Lara Jean Song Covey's love life goes from imaginary to out of control when the love letters for every boy she's ever loved-five in all-are mysteriously mailed out.

THE IRISHMAN

96% ON ROTTEN TOMATOES

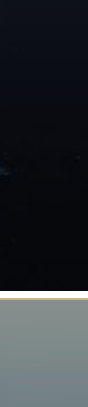

This biographical crime thriller follows Frank Sheeran (Robert De Niro) as he recalls his past years working for the Bufalino crime family. Now older, the WWII veteran once again reflects on his most prolific hits and, in particular, considers his involvement with his good friend Jimmy Hoffa's disappearance in 1975.

BLUE RUIN

96% ON ROTTEN TOMATOES

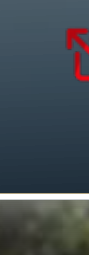

Blue Ruin is a classic American revenge story that recently won the FIPRESCI International Critics Prize at the Cannes Film Festival where it screened in the Directors' Fortnight. The film follows a mysterious outsider whose quiet life is turned upside down when he returns to his childhood home to carry out an act of vengeance. Proving himself an amateur assassin, he winds up in a brutal fight to protect his estranged family.

MARRIAGE STORY

95% ON ROTTEN TOMATOES

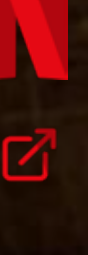

A stage director and his actor wife struggle through a grueling, coast-to-coast divorce that pushes them to their personal and creative extremes.

THE BOY WHO HARNESSSED THE WIND

86% ON ROTTEN TOMATOES

The Boy Who Harnesssed the Wind is based on the true story of William Kamkwamba (Maxwell Simba), a 13-year-old boy living in a small village in Malawi, Africa, who created a device that would restore the land and save his people after flooding ruined their grain fields.

LOST GIRLS

JIRO DREAMS OF SUSHI

99% ON ROTTEN TOMATOES

Even if you don't like sushi, you'll be salivating over the documentary Jiro Dreams of Sushi, which not only lovingly photographs Jiro Ono's $500/plate delicacies, but also goes deep into his work ethic and passion. Gelb's exploration of one man's pursuit of total perfection, and the personal cost of that pursuit, is utterly captivating regardless of your food cravings. Gelb could have made a documentary about any person who is at the top of their field, but focusing on Jiro Ono opens up the door to not only a feast for the senses (you can almost taste the sashimi), but also a fascinating look at Japanese culture, especially with regards to Jiro's complicated relationship with his two sons. It's a filling documentary even if it leaves you physically hungry for such delicious-looking food.

BLACKFISH

Blackfish tells the story of Tilikum, a performing killer whale that killed several people while in captivity. Along the way, director-producer Gabriela Cowperthwaite compiles shocking footage and emotional interviews to explore the creature's extraordinary nature, the species' cruel treatment in captivity, the lives and losses of the trainers and the pressures brought to bear by the multi-billion dollar sea-park industry. This emotionally wrenching, tautly structured story challenges us to consider our relationship to nature and reveals how little we humans have learned from these highly intelligent and enormously sentient fellow mammals.

HOMEcomings: A FILM BY BEYONCÉ

98% ON ROTTEN TOMATOES

Homecoming presents an intimate look at Beyoncé's historic 2018 Coachella performance that paid homage to America's historically black colleges and universities. Interspersed with candid footage and interviews detailing the preparation and powerful intent behind her vision, Homecoming traces the emotional road from creative concept to cultural movement.

THE PALMA

De Palma is an absolute must-watch for any and all cinephiles, whether you're a fan of Brian De Palma's work or not. The film's conceit is basically that filmmakers and De Palma fans Noah Baumbach and Jake Paltrow sit the legendary director in front of a camera and pepper him with a litany of questions that cover his entire career, for which De Palma is more than happy to be absolutely candid. Hear stories about the making of films like Scarface, Blow Out, and Untouchables, his friendship with filmmakers like Martin Scorsese and George Lucas (and subsequent jealousy when their careers went stratospheric and his didn't), and the creative tensions on the set of Mission: Impossible. You'll walk away wanting Baumbach and Paltrow to turn this into a series of documentaries about various filmmakers running through their entire filmographies.

ICARUS

94% ON ROTTEN TOMATOES

Icarus began as a project from Bryan Fogel in which the documentary filmmaker wanted to go on a doping regimen for the Haute Route to see if he could elude the race's intense drug testing. But as Fogel makes contact with a Russian expert in doping, he soon becomes embroiled in the biggest athletic scandal in history, as his "expert" turns out to be the mastermind behind Russia's doping of the Sochi Olympics. Part dark comedy, part thriller, Icarus is an exciting, fascinating, and truly stranger-than-fiction watch.

MISS AMERICANA

The Taylor Swift Netflix documentary Miss Americana is far from your typical music doc. It isn't even really all that focused on Swift's music so much as it is on Swift as a person. More specifically, it's a film about Swift's long journey to figuring out how not to care what people think about her, and how that manifests in her feminist awakening and decision to publicly express her political opinion—which we see occur in real-time. Some will ding the film for being too manicured, and in truth it's impossible to tell just how heavy a hand Swift had in the tailoring of the documentary re: her self-image. But the film's true moments of insight are hard to ignore, and it's fascinating to watch Swift come to terms with who she is as a human being while also being one of the most famous people on the planet.

THE GREAT HACK

88% ON ROTTEN TOMATOES

The 2019 Netflix documentary The Great Hack takes a deep dive into the Facebook-Cambridge Analytica scandal, and how, despite Facebook's denials, the social media giant used personal data harvested by its users. Through interviews with investigative journalists and Cambridge Analytica whistleblower Brittany Kaiser, the film offers a shocking deep-dive of how data has become the most valuable resource on the planet, and how data is used to target users with ads and fake "viral videos" and news stories to swing major elections. One of the most disturbing documentaries of 2019, full-stop.

THE UNKNOWN KNOWN

While a number of films have been made about the Iraq War, legendary documentary filmmaker Errol Morris goes straight to the source for The Unknown Known. The film chronicles the political career of former U.S. Secretary of Defense and congressman Donald Rumsfeld, with Rumsfeld himself sitting in for a series of interviews with Morris. Tough questions are asked, and while Morris isn't really here to outright admit wrongdoing or reconsider his choices, the steadfastness and confidence with which he recounts the Iraq War saga is downright chilling. As far as political documentaries go, this is a must-watch.

THE GAME CHANGERS

70% ON ROTTEN TOMATOES

The Game Changers follows the story of James Wilks - elite Special Forces trainer and winner of The Ultimate Fighter - as he travels the world on a quest for the truth about meat, protein, and strength. Showcasing elite athletes, special ops soldiers, and visionary scientists. The 2018 documentary film about the benefits of plant-based eating for athletes, covers multiple success stories of plant-based athletes, references scientific studies, and touches on other arguments for plant-based diets that extend to non-athletes.

FORKS OVER KNIVES

Forks Over Knives examines the profound claim that most, if not all, of the chronic diseases that afflict us can be controlled or even reversed by rejecting animal-based and processed foods. The major storyline traces the personal journeys of Dr. T. Colin Campbell, a nutritional biochemist from Cornell University, and Dr. Caldwell Esselstyn, a former top surgeon at the world-renowned Cleveland Clinic. On separate paths, their discoveries and groundbreaking research led them to the same startling conclusion: Chronic diseases including heart disease and type 2 diabetes can almost always be prevented—and in many cases reversed—by adopting a whole-food, plant-based diet. The idea of food as medicine is put to the test. The film follows everyday Americans with chronic conditions as they seek to reduce their dependence on medications and learn to use a whole-food, plant-based diet to regain control over their health and their lives.

10 CLOVERFIELD LANE

This brisk, claustrophobic thriller follows a woman (Mary Elizabeth Winstead) who becomes trapped in a bunker and is told the world is now toxic. Is her captor, played by John Goodman, telling the truth? Or does he have more sinister motives? You don't find out until the very end, and the payoff is stupendous.

IT COMES AT NIGHT

87% ON ROTTEN TOMATOES

A family has secluded themselves from the outside world in light of a terrifying, widespread outbreak. But their new regime is flipped upside down when a second family shows up to the house, seeking refuge. Joel Edgerton, Christopher Abbott, Carmen Ejogo, and Riley Keough star in this slow-burn thriller.

28 WEEKS LATER

A sequel to 28 Days Later, this movie takes place six months after the events of the first movie, when mankind has declared victory on the “Rage” virus. But sadly, it's just the calm before the storm. Robert Carlyle, Rose Byrne, Jeremy Renner, and Idris Elba star.

THE ANDROMEDA STRAIN

69% ON ROTTEN TOMATOES

One of the earlier epidemic movies, The Andromeda Strain is fairly straightforward: Based on the 1969 Michael Crichton novel, the film centers on a group of scientists working to figure out what unknown virus killed all the citizens of a small town. And if you're really in the mood for virus movies, there's also a 2008 A&E miniseries remake you can watch after.
